- (2) If answer to above issue No. (1) is in the negative then, what relief the Workmen are entitled to?"

3. In the statement of claim it is in short the case of Party I that Party II is one of the oldest star hotel in Goa having sound financial position. That Hotel Cidade-de-Goa Employees' Union is the registered Union and recognized by the Party II since its registration. That since the formation of the Union, Party II was signing the settlements with the Union and the last settlement was signed in the year 2004. That since the workers were not happy with the terms of the settlement they affiliated their Union to external trade Unions and sought affiliation of Bhartia Mazdoor Sangh and co-opted Shri Puti Gaonkar as one of the office bearers of the Union. Due to this the management was annoyed and started harassing the workers. That the settlement dated 23-12-04 was to be expired on 31-1-08 and hence the Union submitted a fresh charter of demand dated 21-1-08. It is stated that in view of sixth pay commission recommendations, the minimum level wage of the unskilled workers is fixed at ₹ 10,000/- per month and the committee unanimously recommended the fixation of minimum salary of the unskilled workers at ₹ 10,000/-. That the similar hotel establishments in Goa are paying higher salaries, and giving higher facilities and better service conditions to their hotel workers and as Party II is one of the major hotels in Goa having sound financial position, the demand of workers of living wage is just and proper. It is stated that cost of living in Goa is highest in the country; that Party II is making huge profits for past several years; that Party II is having sound financial position and despite it refused to give reasonable rise and hence the industrial dispute was raised by the workers. Party I has reiterated their demands, mentioned in the terms of reference, in the claim statement.

4. Alongwith the application for interim relief at Exb. 9, Party I has filed the affidavit of one Shri Joaquim Gomes, the President of Cidade-de-Goa Hotel Employees' Union, supporting the case of Party I.

5. In defence it is in short the case of Party II that the reference is illegal, bad in law, null and void and not maintainable. It is also their case that salary, wage administration and benefits of the employees of the Company are looked after by Human Resource/Personnel Department. It is stated that the Company and the Union have entered into various industrial settlements and Party II have given the particulars of those settlements in para 5 of the written statement. It is stated that after expiry of settlement dated 2-1-1998 the Company and the Union arrived at a amicable industrial settlement on various demands contained in the charter of demands dated 12-8-2000 for framing 9 scales of pay viz-a-viz existing monthly rated grades and Party II has given the particulars of the same in para 6 of the written statement. It is stated that the said scales of pay were framed with the sole intention that there won't be any need to restructure or revise the same, time and again atleast for a period of next 25 years and also taking into consideration the working of the hotel establishment, the prospects of the hotel establishment improving itself in the next 10 to 15 years. It is stated that under the settlement dated 23-12-04 the pay scales in the settlement dated 21-5-01 were retained without any change however effective from 1-8-03. It is stated that the wage structure for the member of employees of the Union under the Industrial Settlement dated 21-5-01 was on general economic capacity of the Company to pay and the monthly wage packet of the member employee has been calculated with all standardization and calibrations implicit in the system of work performed by the employee of the particular grade and is coupled with adequate safe guards and the said wage packet as a whole of each employee alongwith amenities and benefits such as free food, subsidized travelling facility, annual medical check up facility etc. is adequate to cope up with economic requirement of daily existence consistent with status of employees in society, responsibilities, efficiency at work and industrial peace and the pay packet stands in comparison with other comparable concerns in the region. It is stated that the demands submitted by the Union are beyond financial capacity of the Company and the additional financial burden on the Company by accepting charter of demands would be to the tune of Rs. 5923/- per employee per month and if accepted it will destabilize the Company in future.

6. Party I has also filed the rejoinder, denying the averments made by Party II in their written statement.

7. Heard Lnd. Adv. Shri S. Gaonkar for Party I and Lnd. Sr. Adv. Shri C. Pereira for Party II. Party II has also filed the written submissions, which are on record.

8. I have gone through the records of the case and have duly considered the submissions of both the parties.

9. Following points arise for my determination which are mentioned alongwith their findings and reasons thereof:

Points	Findings
1. Whether Party I has made out a prima facie case for grant of reliefs claimed?	Partly proved.
2. Whether irreparable loss and inconvenience would cause to Party I in case of non-grant of reliefs claimed?	Partly proved.

REASONS

10. Point 1: Perusal of the application for interim relief at Exb. 9 makes it clear that the grounds for claiming interim relief are that there has been more than 80% increase in the All India Consumer Points and increase in the inflation and tremendous decrease in purchasing power of the rupee. It is also the ground for claiming interim relief, that the Company has recorded all round growth and has made excellent profits and hence is capable and sound enough to meet the additional burden; that 1 year and 10 months have elapsed since the date of demand and there is likelihood of the matter getting delayed before it is finally disposed off; that to arrive at bare minimum wage the demand for ₹ 2,500/- as interim relief is just and fair and that the cost of interim relief will not be more than ₹ 2,500/- per month which Party II spends on travelling of the officers every month.

11. Thus, reading of above grounds make it clear that the demand for interim relief is basically on two main grounds which are that there has been increase in the All India Consumer Points and the sound financial condition of the Company.

12. Lnd. Advocate for Party I by inviting my attention to the All India Consumer Price Index (1960=100) since the year 2005, made it clear that the increase in the All India Consumer Points is more than 80% and hence there is need for grant of interim relief to the extent of ₹ 2,500/- p.m. till the disposal of this reference.

13. By relying on the judgment in the case of Webel Nicco Electronics Limited v/s Anima Roy (Mrs.) 1997 II CLR 168 he submitted that the principle underlying the grant of interim relief is to grant financial support and protection to an employee so that he may not be wholly deprived in the almost inevitable interval between the commencement of the proceedings for vindicating his rights and its final disposal. He therefore stated that considering that there has been inflation and tremendous decrease in the purchasing power of rupee, it is essential that Party I Workmen should be granted financial support in terms of interim relief.

14. In his submissions, Lnd. adv. for Party II has not disputed the fact that the value of rupee has decreased or that there has been inflation but stated that Party II has already given increase of ₹ 1,125/- per Workman per month to all its employees w.e.f. 01-02-2008 which increase is sufficient at this stage of the proceedings. It may be mentioned here that, in the course of these proceedings and before the arguments on Exb. 9 could be heard, Party II filed application dated 19-7-2011 at Exb. 23 stating in short that the management of the Company suo motu, after thorough and sympathetic re-consideration of all aspects of charter of demands made by the Union and the monitory burden that would be imposed by accepting the charter of demands on one hand and expiry of period of three and half years from the date of expiry of last settlement on 31-8-08 and to maintain smooth working of the establishment and harmonious relationship between the Company and the Workmen during the continuance of the dispute on the other hand has decided to revise the salary of all confirmed Workmen of the establishment as on 31-1-08 including those who were the members of the Union and Party to the present reference by giving an increase of ₹ 1,125/- p.m. per employee w.e.f. 1-2-2008 and that the Company has already started the process of issuing appropriate letters to the individual Workman. It is pertinent to note that Party I by reply dated 1-8-2011 at Exb. 24 has though not disputed about the increase given by Party II, has stated that the said act of Party II was to delay and divert the mind of Presiding Officer before passing an award on the interim relief application and that the increase given is negligible in comparison to the prevailing circumstances. It is also stated that the increase given is differential and no strict criteria is laid down.

15. Considering the fact that grant of interim relief is to give financial support to the employees between the commencement of the proceedings till its final disposal, it goes without saying that Party II has given such relief to some extent, to Party I, irrespective of contention of Party I that such increase is negligible in comparison to the prevailing circumstances.

16. Coming to the ground raised by Party I about the financial capacity of Party II being sound to meet the additional burden that may be imposed upon it, Lnd. Advocate for Party I took me through the Annual Reports of Party II and more particularly of the year 2009-10 to indicate that Party II has been spending substantial amount on sports sponsorship and therefore is financially sound but Lnd. Adv. for Party II by inviting my attention to these Annual Reports made it clear during the financial year 2008-09 the total revenue to Party II was ₹ 4,453/- lakhs as against the revenue of previous year of ₹ 47,512/- lakhs which represents decrease of 6% in the revenue and that the operating profit for the year was ₹ 1370/- lakhs as against ₹ 1926/- lakhs for the previous year, showing the decrease. He also took me through the Annual Report for the year 2009-10 in which the total revenue of Party II was ₹ 4,248/- lakhs as against the revenue of previous year of ₹ 4,453/- lakhs which represented decrease of ₹ 203/- lakhs there by constituting decrease of 5% in revenue and the operating profit for the year was ₹ 1,351/- lakhs as against ₹ 1,370/- lakhs for the previous year representing decrease of ₹ 19/- lakhs. He then invited my attention to annual report for the year 2007-08 wherein the net profits of Party II were ₹ 1,083/- lakhs, for the year 2008-09 were ₹ 695/- lakhs, for the year 2008-09 the net profits were ₹ 695/- lakhs and for the year 2009-10 the net profits were ₹ 697/- lakhs, a marginal increase of ₹ 2/- lakhs. It is therefore prima facie clear from the above data that the contention of Lnd. Advocate for Party I on the sound financial condition of Party II is apparently not correct irrespective of the fact that Party II has been spending substantial amount on sports sponsorship, which may be for other reasons in the interest of business.

17. Lnd. Advocate for Party II relied on judgment in the case of Remington Rand of India Limited v/s. The Workmen 1969 (19) FLR 46 in which it is observed as under:

"..... But the fact that an employer is able to bear the burden is not the criterion. The foundation of the principle of industry-cum-region is that as far as possible there should be uniformity of conditions of service in comparable concerns in the industry in the region so that there is no imbalance in the conditions of service between Workmen in one establishment and those in the rest. The danger otherwise would be migration of labour to the one where there are more favourable conditions from those where conditions are less favourable. Therefore, the mere fact that a particular concern can bear an additional liability would by itself be no ground to impose upon it such extra obligations. Equally important is the fact that the wage structure prevailing in the apparent Company is indisputably fair and the dearness allowance paid to the Workmen has been, as aforesaid, linked with the index of cost of living. These must take care of the rise in the cost of living from time to time....."

18. Lnd. Counsel for Party II also relied on the judgment in the case of M/s. Polychem Ltd. v/s R. D. Tulpule AIR 1972 SC 1967 the observations in which also indicate that mere financial capacity of the particular concern to pay should not be the sole criteria.

19. Thus, it is clear from above observations that the financial capacity of Party II is not the sole criteria for deciding the aspect of revision of wages irrespective of the failure of Party I to prima facie prove the same.

20. As regards the contention of Party I, that the similar hotel establishments in Goa are paying higher salaries and giving higher facilities and better service conditions to their hotel workers and that one of the similar hotel namely M/s. Majorda Beach Resort, has signed two settlements dt. 01-02-2008 and dt. 27-01-2011, during the said period by giving rise of more than ₹ 2,500/- per month on an average per Workman, it is worthwhile noting that in order to compare the said hotel establishment M/s. Majorda Beach Resort with Party II, it was for Party I to have adverted to various other factors and in this context I would refer to the judgment in the case of Novex Dry Cleaners v/s Its Workmen (1962) 1 LLJ 271 in which it is observed that before comparing the establishment in question with other establishments engaged in the same trade in the region, it is necessary to compare the establishments in respect of their standing, the extent of labour force employed by them, the extent of their respective customers and also a comparative study has to be made of the profits and losses incurred by them for some years before the date of the award. Since the comparison of above nature between Party II and M/s. Majorda Beach Resort is not on record, it would not stand to reason, to say that M/s. Majorda Beach Resort is a similar hotel establishment as that of Party II. That apart, Lnd. Advocate for Party II also made it clear that M/s. Majorda Beach Resort is not paying variable dearness allowance to its Workmen but is paying only fixed dearness allowance unlike Party II which pays the variable dearness allowance.

21. In the judgment in the case of Mukand Limited v/s. Mudkand Staff and Officers Association 2002 (2) ALL MR 405 it is observed that while making the wage fixation industry-cum-region principle has to be applied and in making comparisons under region-cum-industry formula, the adjudicator has to assess the data which has been produced before him and in case of deficiencies in the data, the sound and robust common sense of expert adjudicator must guide the determination. No doubt, the above principle has apparently to be applied at the time of final determination of the issues on merits but at the same time at the stage of disposal of interim relief application and more particularly when the Union claims comparison with other establishment contending that it is a comparable concern, it is the duty of the Union to produce on record atleast some prima facie material to substantiate that said other establishment is a comparable concern. Apparently, prima facie evidence to say that M/s. Majorda Beach Resort is a comparable concern, is lacking in the instant case and therefore the same cannot at this stage be compared for wage revision of Party I Workmen.

22. The mere fact of matter getting delayed for its final disposal cannot be a ground to seek interim relief or the fact that the total cost of interim relief will not be more than ₹ 2,500/- per month which Party II spends on the travelling of officers every month also cannot be a ground to hold that these aspects prima facie weigh in favour of Party I for claiming the interim relief.

23. At any rate, since discussion above makes it clear that Party I has succeeded in establishing that there has been more than 80% increase in the

All India Consumer Points as well as increase in the inflation due to which purchasing power of the rupee has decreased, I am of the opinion that Party I has succeeded in proving a prima facie case to the above extent, for grant of reliefs claimed. Hence my findings.

24. Point No. 2: Having come to the above findings, it goes without saying that inconvenience and prejudice would cause to Party I in case they are denied the relief of interim relief till the disposal of the instant reference. Learned Advocate for Party II, relied on the judgment in the case of A. K. Bindal v/s Union of India 2003 (4) ALL MR 1160 in which it is observed as under:

".....Even under the industrial law, the view is that the Workmen should get a minimum wage or a fair wage but not that his wages must be revised and enhanced periodically. It is true that on account of inflation there has been a general price rise but by that fact alone it is not possible to draw an inference that the salary currently being paid to them is wholly inadequate to lead a life with human dignity. What should be the salary structure to lead a "life with human dignity" is a difficult exercise and cannot be measured in absolute terms. It will depend upon nature of duty and responsibility of the post, the requisite qualification and experience, working conditions and host of other factors....."

25. Nevertheless, as discussed supra, Party II has given increase of ₹ 1,125/- per Workman per month but it is seen from the documents produced by Party II and more particularly the charts showing quantum of wages paid to employees in different categories grades for the year 2008-09, 2009-10 and 2010-11 that the quantum of said increase is not uniform but it varies from employee to employee. It also cannot be lost sight of the fact that the said increase which is on an average of ₹ 1,125/- p.m. made to each employee, is an unilateral increase on the part of Party II and therefore it would not be proper to say that Party II would not be at liberty to withdraw the said increase at any time, in future. Even for that matter, no reference is found made to this fact in the written statement either by amending it or otherwise. It may be mentioned here that there is otherwise no dispute that Party II had also been granting free food valued at ₹ 806/- per month per employee and subsidized transport facility valued at ₹ 431/- per month per employee. This being the case, I am of the considered opinion that a fixed amount of ₹ 1,125/- per Workman, per month, would prima facie constitute financial support and protection to the employees till the final disposal of the reference. Hence, my findings.

26. In the result, I pass the following.

ORDER

1. The application for interim relief at Exb. 9 is partly allowed.
2. The Party II Company is hereby directed to pay ₹ 1,125/- per month to each of the Workman, from the date of this order, pending the final adjudication of the charter of demands. The above amount ordered to be paid, shall be subject to final order/award, which will be passed in this reference.
3. No order as to costs.
